LESSON FOR JANUARY 26

ISRAEL CROSSING THE RED SEA.

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 14:13-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thus the Lord saved the Israelites that day out of the hands of the Egyptians. Exodus 14:30.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Deuteronomy 4:32-40; Psalms 78:1-14, 106:7-12; Hebrews 11:29.

The tenth stroke from the strong hand of the Almighty made Pharaoh willing to let Israel go. The tenth turn of the screw of omnipotence brought him to time. The Israelites go out on their way to the promised land with a high hand. Through the land of the Philistines the journey would have been comparatively short; but God commanded them to turn from that way lest going through the land of the Philistines they see war and desire to turn back to Egypt. The Lord had respect for their needs. "He knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust." (Psalms 103:14). He suits our trials to our ability to meet them.

The Lord went before them in a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night. He not only thus indicated unto them the right path, but walked with them in it. God does not deliver and then leave us alone, but becomes our companion. At the Lord's direction they turned from their first course and were made to face a seeming difficulty. The Red sea was before them, and mountains on either side. The stricken Egyptians had recovered from their sorrow and now saw the Israelites in a situation from which they could not extricate themselves. They interpreted this to mean that Moses was unable to lead them out of their difficulty; therefore, they went in pursuit, hoping yet to prevent them from going out of the country.

I. The Miraculous Escape of the Israelites (14:13-22).

They were in a straitened condition but had no reason to fear, for the Lord had led them there. It is safe to be where the Lord leads, though every avenue is closed against us. There seems to be a two-fold object in leading them into this peculiar place: to strengthen the faith of the people and to lay a snare for the overthrow of the Egyptians. The people, as usual, displayed their unbelief and even censured Moses for leading them out of Egypt. Moses replied to their murmurs by saying, "Fear ye not, stand still and see the salvation of the Lord." Standing still in such a trial is faith taking hold on God's promises. This is hard for the natural man to do. Before the salvation of the Lord can ever be seen or experienced we must come thus to him. While reposing our confidence in the Lord, there comes a time when we must make our faith active. God said, wherefore criest thou unto me? Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward." Having had his definite promise, to have prayed longer would have been unbelief. The thing to be done then was to step out upon his eternal promise. The lifting up of the rod simply served as something tangible upon which their faith could act. They were to go forward a step at a time, without raising any question as to the outcome; for from the same source from which came the command, came the power to obey. The presence of the Lord was adapted to their needs as they went forward. As they went forward the very thing which seemed their destruction became a wall of protection on either side.

II. The Overthrow of the Egyptians (23-27).

Having seen the Israelites go across dry-shod, Pharaoh and his hosts madly pursued them. They insanely thought that they in their unbelief could follow in the wake of God's children. The very things which are a wall and defense to the faithful become a snare and a means of destruction to the enemies of God's people. The Lord looked forth from the cloud and wrought confusion among the Egyptians. There is a day coming when a look from the Almighty will cause a much greater consternation among the wicked (Revelation 6:16, 17; 20:11-13). He not only looked upon them but took off their chariot wheels, which caused them to realize that God was fighting against them. He then directed Moses to stretch forth his rod and bring destruction upon the Egyptians. So complete was the overthrow that it is said that not one escaped.

III. The Song of Triumph (15:1-21).

Standing on the other shore of the Red sea, they could fittingly sing the song of triumph, because of the miraculous deliverance and the overwhelming defeat.

Instruments of Strength.

He is able to bear the crosses of others because he bears his own. He can be of use to men because he can do without men. He is ethically effective because he is spiritually free. He is able to save because he is strong to suffer. His sympathy and his solitude are both alike the instruments of his strength.—Francis G. Peabody.

Our Helper.

He that wrestles with us strengthens our nerves and sharpens our skill. Our antagonist is our helper.—Burke.

Letters From France

for me. Guess they are busy going to school now.

I get a letter from home every ten days; wrote to mother last week.

Got a letter from Ruth last week; she sent me her picture; you know I was glad to get it for I could see those sweet blue eyes and golden curls of hers.

Tell Julian I say when he gets a girl that far away to send him her picture that he has my going his way.

Well, as it is about dinner time, will close. Answer real soon.

From Private Tavior Woolridge, Co G, 132d Inf, to his mother.

My dear Mother:

Will write you a few lines to let you know I am getting along all right; hope this will find all well and getting along all right.

Well, mother, I am away from the Front now; I have been up there three times; it isn't as bad as everybody says it is.

Mother, how is papa getting along with his crop? I hope he will make a good one; guess he's done cutting tobacco and corn. I wish I were there to help him.

I would like to hear from you all; I haven't had word from you since I left Camp Lee.

I wrote to Lacy last week.

I suppose you have moved by this time. When you write to me let me know where you have moved to; hope you got a good place.

When have you seen Bernice and Gracie? I would like to see them; guess they are still working in Lynchburg.

Well, mother, Norman is all right and getting along fine; he is in my company, you know; he has been with me all the time; that's good, isn't it? I hope we can come back home together; I know you do.

When you write to me tell me how much wheat I made. I guess papa is attending to my business for me. Ha! ha!

Give some of the girls my address so they can write to me. I wrote to Adella and Flossie; if you see them give them my address; I like to hear from them. Tell Lily I will write to her next; I wrote her last week but don't know if she got the letter.

Well, I will close for this time, hoping to hear from you soon. Write me as soon as you get this. Give all my love.

Dear Mother:

Will just drop you a card to let you know I haven't forgotten you. But listen, mother; don't you know I haven't heard from you yet?

Hope this will find you all well; it leaves me and Norman both well.

Hope you will have a good Xmas.

I heard from Irving and Clara this week; you don't know how glad I was to hear from them. But you don't know how it bothers me that I can't hear from you all at home; but Irving said you all were well and getting on all right; and said he had a good time while he was up there.

Will close for this time, hoping to hear from you soon.

From Pvt. Samuel Lee Loomis, Co. L, 318th Inf., to his aunt, Mrs. Mary L. Harker.

France, Dec 11.

My dear Aunt Mary:

Your most kind and welcome letter received today; was certainly glad to hear from you I am well and getting on fine; hope you are all well and doing fine.

I had begun to think you weren't going to answer my letter; but I got it o. k.

Well, Aunt, I have good news to tell you—the war is over; we boys worked hard enough for it to be over with.

I am sure coming to see you when I get back to the U. S. A. Believe me, I can tell you some interesting things about France. I often think of the last time I saw you all, and that good dinner I will never forget. Only wish I could be there now to take dinner with you; hope it won't be long before we will be sailing back to the good old U. S. A.; it's the only place in the world for me.

I have been in lots of danger and under shell fire, but am thankful to say haven't been hurt.

The weather here is cold and rainy; it has rained nearly every day for a month—nothing but mud and water here; it doesn't look good to me.

I will take new Xmas when I get back; for I've worked every day since I left. Want you to have a 10-pound cake for me; feel like could eat it all; haven't had any for so long don't know what it tastes like.

Tell Mr Harker hello! for me and give him my best regards. I have experienced lots of his work he used to do.

This is about all I can tell you until I get there.

I haven't seen nor heard any thing of Norman for a good while.

Guess had better close, until I see you, which I hope won't be long. Give my love to all. Answer soon, with a long letter.

Helps Sick Women

Cardui, the woman's tonic, helped Mrs. William Eversole, of Hazel Patch, Ky. Read what she writes: "I had a general breaking down of my health. I was in bed for weeks, unable to get up. I had a weakness and disorder . . . and the pains were severe. A friend told me that Cardui, the woman's tonic, soon saw it was helping me. . . . After I had taken a few bottles I am strong again."

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Do you feel weak, dizzy, worn-out? Is your lack of good health caused from any of the complaints so common to women? Then why not give Cardui a trial? It should surely do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women who suffered—it should help you back to health.

Ask some lady friend who has taken Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Try Cardui.

Did You Ever
Pay A Bill
You Didn't Owe?

HAVE you ever had the unhappy experience of feeling that an error had been made in your store bill—that you were charged with something you never bought?

It makes you feel pretty mad—and you have a right to be mad—yet many times you are powerless to prove your case—so you pay.

In every store bill there are items which you never bought, knowingly. These items are summed up in the words—"Losses on bad accounts." You don't see such an item on your bill, but it is there just the same.

EVERY merchant knows that he will lose some of his accounts, so he adds enough to the price of his goods to take care of these "lost accounts."

WHEN you buy at this CASH STORE you do not pay for anything you do not get—

—there are no disputed bills—no hard feelings—

—there are no charges for bad accounts—

—you pay only the right, bed-rock price for the best of merchandise—

—THAT'S ALL.

Letters from Frince

From Private Frank L. Coleman, Camp Hospital No. 96, APO 733, to his cousin, Miss Jessie Coleman.

Angiers, France,
Dec. 30, 1918

My dearest Jessie:

I received your letter on the 26th Dec., which was in the same envelope with mother's.

You bet I was some glad to hear from you; that was the first letter I have got since I left Camp Lee. I am glad to know you all are well and getting on fine.

Jessie, I am sorry indeed to hear of the death of Aubrey; I can hardly realize it. I think it's so bad on Cousin Mamie and George; they have worked so hard to educate him. Mother said he died with the "flu;" the flu is terrible over here; lots of soldiers have died with it. I do hope I will not have it.

Well, I am feeling fine so far and have had the very best of luck, and do hope it won't be long before I can ride around with you in your car; don't you?

Jessie, you don't know how glad I was to hear from you and home. I hope I can get your letters often now.

You said in your letter that you wanted me to bring you something; you bet I am going to bring you a souvenir from France when I come.

Well, I am having a good time over here, but I would rather be at home; I have seen enough of France.

I must close; give my love to Aunt Cassie and all the family. I will write again in a few days.

From Pvt. Richard F. Smith, Co. H, 28th Inf., to his mother, Mrs. Fields Smith.

France, Nov. 27.

My dear Mother:

I received your most welcome letter and was glad to hear everything was o. k. at home. I am fine and dandy; have been on a very extensive campaign, so much action but plenty of hiking. Was on the Front when the armistice was signed. Hope peace will soon come and I will be on my way home; then I can tell you of my experience in this war.

I presume you are awful glad to hear the war has ended. Great things can sure happen in a short while, concerning this war.

Was sorry to hear the Spanish influenza was raging in the States; hope it will not prove to be very serious.

I presume all of the "Slackers" are just bursting to come over here now, after we have got the Huns' goat. They had better keep mum to the doughboys when they get back, for you know they are all in fighting trim just now.

I have received quite a few letters lately from the States and they were all appreciated; and just as soon as it is convenient I will try and answer them.

I haven't seen any of the boys I know, yet.

Well, I guess this is about all for this time; this is only a note. Will write soon again.

December, 22.

Dear Mother:

I will write you a few lines to let you hear from me. I am glad to say this leaves me well and in the best of health, and I hope it will find you all the same.

Well, we are in a little town in Germany by the name of Hillschide; we hiked all the way down the Moselle river, which empties into the Rhine, and we stayed all night in a city by the name of Coblenz and went across the Rhine about ten miles next day. Myself and two other boys are staying in the house with some German people; they seem to be glad to see us in here; they give us wine and plenty of apples to eat. Well, I don't think we will be here very long before we will have another long hike; we hiked about 40 days the last time.

The boys all call me "Big Smith," but I will be "Little Smith" if we take another one of those hikes like the other one.

Well, I think the next hike will be on our way to the States; at least, I hope so.

Ernest and Willie will have a big time with the girls this Christmas, since they have learned to play the violin and banjo.

I received a letter from Aunt Emma last week and she said John was killing cows—one every week. Well, that beats this old country all right.

Well, I will eat my Christmas dinner in Germany this year.

I will close for this time; give my love and best regards to all. Tell little Odelle hello! and a kiss from me.

Wishing you all a merry Christmas and a happy new year.

PRESERVING LETTERS WRITTEN BY VIRGINIANS

Director of Legislative Reference Bureau Compiling Valuable Data on War

USES NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS

Lewis H. Machen Arranging Volumes Containing Soldiers' Letters, Which Will Be Turned Over To State Library For Reference

The scheme of Lewis H. Machen, director of the legislative reference bureau for preserving valuable letters written by the soldiers in France to Virginians, promises to result in a set of several volumes of interesting communications written during the period of hostilities.

Mr. Machen's exchange list contains nearly every paper published in Virginia, and being struck with the large number of soldiers' letters appearing in them, he laid the plan of preserving them before the Virginia Council of Defense, of which Mr. Machen is a member. The council approved the plan, which contemplates turning the scrapbook over to Dr H. R. McIlwain, State Librarian, who will prepare a complete index.

Mr. Machen has extended his original idea to take in not only a complete casualty list, but also other interesting articles of any appropriate nature, which, however, will be put in separate volumes. When completed this set will, it is thought, reflect the activities of Virginia soldiers more accurately and vividly than could be done in any other manner.

Mr. Machen is anxious to receive copies of clippings that have been made by relatives and friends of Virginia soldiers. He has already several thousand of them, but he wishes to make the symposium as complete as possible. Some of the newspapers in the State he has not received. Some others he may have overlooked. There would be no objection to having duplicates, as some of the letters are on both sides of a printed paper, and two copies are needed for clipping. Of course, only those items that have been printed are suitable for the scrapbooks.

Mr. Machen expects the people of the State to co-operate in making up such a record as the State never had of the sayings and doings of her soldiers in any of the wars in which her sons have fought. It will constitute a mine of information for historians who may wish to write of Virginia's part in the world war—Richmond Times-Dispatch

Cottage Cheese Recipes Given

(Prepared by Jessie Logan, Cottage Cheese Specialist.)

How to make cottage cheese: To every gallon of fresh skim milk, add two thirds cup of buttermilk and one-eighth junket tablet dissolved in two tablespoons of water. Stir thoroughly. Set aside at a temperature of 75 degrees F for 12 or 14 hours. Drain through a piece of thin muslin stretched over a large dishpan until practically all the whey has disappeared. Fold curd in cloth and press between two boards or pans until the desired consistency.

What it is:

Cottage cheese is one of the most important meat substitutes. It contains a larger percentage of body building material than most meats and furnishes this material at a lower cost. Cottage cheese is practically all digestible while meats contain certain waste material as bone, gristle, etc. Most in-

Many of the sick are better. Some who have had influenza are better. Several boarders at Mr. A. C. Garnett's have what seems to be the disease in a mild form.

Miss Grace Armstrong of the high school faculty has been too sick to teach most of the past week, but at this writing she is reported improved.

Robert Austin, a thrifty, industrious colored man, has sworn out a warrant charging Ida Austin with threatening to kill his wife. The case is set for trial this week.

Teamsters are busy hauling pulp wood to Dillwyn and are having a hard time negotiating the mud-it they get on the sandy road.

Tobacco have been cleaned up ready to put in a supply office, but as yet only small quantities have been harvested, owing to the mild winter; and it looks now as if we will have to depend on manufacturers for. But the winter is not gone yet.

Since writing the above a neighbor told me he had harvested 18 loads of ice; these are people who have delicious ice cream in summer.

The Farmers Union met here Saturday and attended to the business of the county Union. Mr. Robertson of the Robertson Guano Co. was here and in conference with the officials of the Union.

Mr. Pomp Word is quite sick from the effects of influenza, followed by mumps.

Mr. D. W. Word was here on Saturday and he had had a recent letter from his son, John, in France, saying he hoped soon to be at home, but did not know at that time where he'd be taken when the next move was made.

County Clerk W. J. Hubard is still confined to his home by rheumatism, but I hope he will certainly be out before time to go fishing, of which sport he is so fond.

Mrs. W. E. Moss was taken from here in an automobile by Sheriff Williams to Charlottesville, from whence she was sent to the State Hospital at Staunton, and it was alleged on what seems good authority that she died after reaching there.

Rev. John L. Rogers accepted an invitation from Mr. Barrell, pastor of Maysville Presbyterian church, to preach for him last Sunday.

Master John Eldridge is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. John G. Glover and attending the high school here.

Mr. Bowen, who owns the old Shaw mill property near here, got his corn crusher broken last week and he got a single tree hook and also an iron ring out of the machine that went in with the corn.

One of the local millers is talking of discontinuing the crushing of corn because so many bring pieces of metal in their corn; this is caused by handling the corn in shovels and the iron is taken up with the grain.
